Another Omnibus Bill Prepared by Springer, to Admit Arizons, Idaho and Wyoming.

UTAH'S PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

The Senate Considering Sherman's Bill to Abolish Trusts-The Appropriation Bills in the House-To Reclaim Arid Lands.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25 .- Representative Springer has prepared and will at the first opportunity introduce in the house another mnibus bill providing for an enabling act zona, Idaho and Wyoming. The bill embodies all the features of the omnibus bill ecently passed by the house, with the following exceptions: Elections for delegates to constitutional conventions are to be held in each of these territories at the Novem ions are to assemble in the capitol of each erritory on the first Wednesday in Janu vote of the people, for their ratification or rejection, of each territory at the November election of 1890. At this election i governor and other state officers, members of the legislature and other county officers, of the legislature and other county officers, and representatives in congress are to be elected. The legislatures then elected are to be authorized to assemble and elect two United States senators. A special act of congress will then be passed for their admission into the Union.

The Omnibus Bill.

Washington, Jan. 25.—The senate committee on territories to-day took up the house bill passed the other day for the admission of North and South Dakota, Montana, Washington and New Mexico into the Union. After a seasion of two hours one of the committee said, "We have spent the entire session in considering the bill. It is noticeable for its contradictory provisions and its radequacy to get any territory or part of a territory into the Union as a state. The attempt in a general bill of this character to provide for the local necessities of different territories seems to have been such a failure as that if any state might come in under its provisions it would be unable, even in court, to ascertain what its rights are. As the bill now stands, it is probably the most complicated and most difficult to interpret and administer that ever passed either house of congress. If we are to pass it, the measure must be corrected materially and has been referred to a sub committee with instructions to see if its inconsistencies can be so reconciled that we can recommend its passage."

SCHOOLS IN MORMONDOM.

loner of schools of Utah for the year 1888 says: "The taxation of the territiory for school purposes is insufficient, and ries have to be charged in district schools. This charge for tuition prevents many poor from attending schools. The leaders of the Mormon church," the report says, "are actively pushing a scheme to establish listrict in the territory." Continuing, the report says: "It is manifest no additional report says: "It is manifest no additional provisions for the support of public schools will be made by the legislature as long as the Mormons remain able to control territorial legislation, unless private schools (in which Mormons may control affairs and teach their tenets) are allowed to share with the public schools in the money raised. The census of children of school age (between 6 and 18 years) shows there are in the territory 941 boys and 3,641 girls of non-Mormon parents, and 34,082 boys and 22,089 girls of Mormon parents."

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25 .- The army apropriation bill, reported to the house today, provides for an aggregate appropriation of $24.462,415, which is $4.885 less than the appropriation for the current year. The estimates were $24,920,358 exclusive of the provision for sea coast defense. An appropriation of $100,000 is provided for the new post at Denver, Col., and one of $500,000 for moveable sub-marine torpedoes.

The Bond Purchases

WASHINGTON,, Jan. 25 .- The secretary of the treasury to-day sent to the senate s response to Plumb's resolution calling for a detailed statement since March 4, 1885, showing the grand total of bond purchases as follows: Four per cents—Amount, $55,724,000; accrued interest, $324,012; total cost, $72,651,827. Four and a haif per cents—Amount, $68,561,650; accrued interest, $354,928; total cost, $74,162,861.

General Grosvenor, president of the National Union league, has called a meeting of its national council here March 2, to consider measures calculated to uphold the incoming national administration and to strengthen the union of the republican party, especially in the south.

The senate committee on commerce to day authorized Frye to report a number of light houses.

The reception room of the senate wing was crowded this morning with representatives of the National Women's Suffrage association, which has just closed its annual session in this city, and their friends who came to present their arguments in behalf of a proposed sixteenth amendment to the constitution granting women the right of suffrage. Addresses were made by several women prominent in the cause.

The conferees on the bill to amend the inter state commerce law concluded their work to-day on the mandements of importance. The house managers receded in lodging the prisoners in jail. The bill to prevent the formation of trusts was then taken up, and Hoar offered an amendment to come in as an additional section. It provides if one of the purposes of such combination shall be to compel any person or partnership, or corporation, to become a party to it, or to cease from doing any lawful business, or to sell any lawful business, such person, partnership or company may sue and recover damages; or also that any purchaser who has (on account of such combination) to pay an increased price for an article purchased, may sue for and recover damages from any party to the combination; agreed to. Eustis called the attention of Sherman to the fact that the bill did not seem to apply in this city and positively refused to see anybody. W. N. Abbott, vice-president of anybody. W. N. Abbott, vice-president of the Connecticut Mutual, is here with a professional accountant, and it was through their efforts that Moore's dishonesty was made public. It is thought his defalcation will be considerably in excess of half a million. He was also agent for the German-American, Firemen's Fund, City of London and Imperial of London insurance companies, and is supposed to be short in his accounts with them. Nothing definite is known about this, however.

The appropriation for the repairs of light houses was increased from $500,000 to $335,000. The appropriation for salaries of light house keepers was increased from $600,000 to $625,000. The appropriation for the pay of assistant custodians and janitors of public buildings was increased from $460,000 to $490,000. Randail offered an amendment appropriating $150,000 for the $460,000 to $490,000. Randall offered an amendment appropriating $150,000 for the purpose of investigating the extent to which arid desert lands can be redeemed by irrigation. Symes (Col.) offered an amendment increasing the appropriation to $250,000 and spoke in support of the amendment. Pending action the committee rose. Randall, from the committee on appropriations, reported a joint resolution making an appriation of $500,000 for payment to the legal representative of J. B. Eads. interviewing Mr. Moore. He said the depositors in his bank would not suffer, and that he had turned over to the Connecticut Mutual property worth $200,000. When asked if he knew what course the officers of the insurance company would pursue, he said: "I have no idea of their plans. I am simply waiting for developments and am entirely in their hands. I want it understood that I have remained here to face the consequences of my acts of my own accord. I had plenty of time to leave the country and save myself completely. I decided to stay right here." Moore stated his troubles dated to 1880. "In 1879," said he, "a law was passed prohibiting foreign corporations from bringing suit in a federal court. That destroyed my business for two or three years. I did nothing at all and became very despondent. Just before that, a short time, I had gone into bankruptey and an intimate friend who had endorsed my paper was a heavy loser. I always considered that I was in honor bound to repay him, and it was in an attempt to do this that my present troubles really began. I had loaned large sums of money for the company taking real estate as security. After the panic the borrowers were unable to pay off their mortgages and the property fell back into our hands. It had depreciated greatly in value and run down and was in very bad repair. I saw the company losing thousands of dollars of investments that had been made on my judgment. All these things piled upon me, and as the time passed on grew more and more burdensome. I was beset on every side, and felt bound to do something to relieve myself, and yet there was nothing I could do. At this point I went to New York and began to speculate in stocks. I had fair success, too, and made some money, but whenever I came back here I lost my head and everything went wrong."

The statu quo at the time represented the United States, Germany and England met, he says, must be restored, and this would necessitate the replacement of King Malietoa in the position from which he was so unjustly removed by the German agents sent to Marshall Islands. This step Morrow insisted must be preliminary to any further negotiations on the subject.

BERLIN, Jan. 25.—The National Zeitung referring to the action of the senatorial committee at Was hington the Samoa affair says: "Measures for the protection of the automony on the Samoan Island are superfluous because it is not threated by anyone. The sole interest of America consists in not allowing her good relations with Germany to be jeopardised by a few in triging adventurers." The Vossische of yesterday holds that it would be a mistake to under estimate the importance of the measures taken by President Cleveland, merely because he is to be succeeded by Mr. Harrison. It points out that the authority for dealing with foreign affairs rests with a committee of the senate, and warns the semi-official press that it would be unwise to try to appease the German publicby "fallacious illisions."

ment of Zanzibar's Ruler. NEW YORK, Jan. 25 .- A dispatch to the Times from Zanzibar, says: "Grave pe-cuniary embarassment is reported to be pending for the sultan of Zanzibar. Facts have leaked out which indicate that his treatment at the hands of the German East African company is absolutely unparallelled. Since the beginning of its operations it is stated the sultan's direct cash loss has been over 450,000 rupees and his constructive loss ten times that amount. The company exacted payment of every penny to which it would be entitled if in prosperous working order, in addition to the value of the losses it surtained at Kilwa and elsewhere. The sultan is compelled to pay monthly nearly 100,000 rupees recoup to the company for the cost of a theoretical administration which has been practically abandoned since September, and the com-African company is absolutely unpar-

The company has thus driven a vast body of malcontents into the insurgent ranks, holding the suitan and the company alike as responsible for their destitution, and it has entirely destroyed the sultan's power. It is rumored that the sultan has repeatedly remonstrated with the German consul.

ZANZIBAR, Jan. 25.—An English missionary named Brooks and sixteen followers were murdered Saturday near Saadani by coast tribes and natives of Zanzibar. These murders indicate the extent of the hatred which the Germans have aroused. Saadani for many years has been the starting point of European missions, the natives welcoming the missionaries and assisting them, especially the English. The murders caused a sensation, and the question as to the measures England will take to punish the murderers is eagerly discussed.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25 .- The great battle between Harry Walton, of Philadelphia, and Cal McCarthy, of Jersey City, to decide the American championship in the bantam-weight class, took place with kid gloves at Gloucester, Burlington county, N. J., to-night, Queensberry rules govern ing. The fight was for the championship and $750. McCarthy fought a clever battle and knocked Walton out in the fifth round. The knock-out was one of the strangest ever witnessed. Walton dived from one end of the ring to the other and then ended end of the ring to the other and then ended by rolling all over the floor. McCarthy showed himself to be a general at the business. He is is 21 years of age, stands 5 feet 2½ inches tail, and weighed 114 pounds. His last battle was with the late George Young, whom he defeated in nine rounds. His longest fight was last fall, when it took him nearly an hour to knock out Eugene Hornbarker. Walton had fought a draw with Tommy Warren and defe-ted Jimmy Hogan. He is 26 years of age. 5 feet 4 inches tail and weighed to-night 115½ pounds.
